The State University of Iowa.

Do you know that investigations recently made by the State Transcript show that "The University of Iowa for this year a larger percentage of professors in residence than any other representative university or college in the United States"? This growth of the above might be added the addition that this year's growth at the University is only one-half as great as the institution enjoyed during the preceding year.

Does it not occur to you that there must be adequate sufficient reasons for the increase and growth of income, in the number of young men and women admitted to the doors of Iowa's State University?

It has been suggested that in the strength of her Faculties, the number and completeness of her Buildings, the treasury of her Laboratories, the nature of her libraries, the completeness of her apparatus, the richness of her general equipment may be found the cause why so many young men and women and over half of the states of the Union are visiting this institution for their education.

You are cordially invited to visit the several departments and schools of the University during your stay in the city that you may be your own judge as to the correctness of the above suggestion.
